JOB DESCRIPTION

Once trained to the LP4Y Pedagogy and tools, you will take part in supporting a team of young adults (17-24 years old) and develop the following skills:

- Pedagogy and follow up of the Youth so that they gain confidence in their capacity to act and therefore find and keep a decent job
- Development of a micro-company (social entrepreneurship), enabling them to develop their:
 - Soft skills: business, management, organization, planification, communication, professionalism, time management
 - Hard Skills: digital literacy, English
- Partnership development: creating and developing an integration ecosystem for the Youth
- Organization and Finance management organization of program activities in collaboration with other Catalysts, budget management, follow up and reporting of the activities
- Sustainability will help create lasting solutions that benefit both the youth and their communities and through Citizenship Development, will empower young adults to become active, responsible citizens and create a nurturing environment for their well-being and growth.

This mission is very complete. In Training and Development Centers, on top of supporting the Youth on a daily basis through individual and collective coaching sessions, you also manage the recruitment of new comers, the relationships with the partners, etc. Seeing the evolution of the Youth and working closely with them makes it a very rich and human experience.
